

Yup'it School District

Akiachak, Alaska

Seeking Qualified Applicants for Superintendent of Schools

The Yup'it Board of Education desires a superintendent that understands, appreciates and will be involved in our local Yup'ik culture. The Board seeks a superintendent that will work to build trusting, positive relationships with employees, regional board members, local advisory board members, and all stakeholders in the three villages of the district (Akiachak, Akiak, and Tuluksak). The applicant will recognize and have experience with the uniquely important role of village school principals and their associated local advisory boards and work to support their success in effectively educating Yup'it students who are connected to their local culture and traditions. The Board is seeking an individual that has demonstrated experience with effective and uniquely appropriate ways of measuring student growth and proficiency that recognizes the learning styles and cultural qualities of indigenous people.

The ideal candidate will be adept and experienced in working with federal, state and local agencies including our tribal governments in a collaborative fashion that promotes meeting the needs of Yup'it student success and academic achievement. Additionally, the superintendent will have the skills to work collaboratively with the Board and school communities and will spend quality time in all three communities. We desire a person who has shown an ability to be creative when resources are scarce; who can motivate and lead without oppressing; who is not afraid to aggressively seek other sources of support for educational programs and school maintenance. It is essential in a small district such as ours that a superintendent knows how to work well with a business office and manage the district resources as effectively and efficiently as possible.

Yupiit School District Profile

The mission of Yupiit School District

“To educate all children to be successful in any environment”

Yupiit School District (YSD), a Regional Educational Attendance Area, operates three remote schools on the Kuskokwim River in Southwest Alaska. There are 450 students in the district. Our vision is to create a culturally rich, technology-driven, and safe learning environment for all students. Our goal is to instill value in education, thereby motivating and empowering students to pursue higher learning. In doing so, we hope to expand vocational and career opportunities for all.

The Yupiit School District serves the communities of Akiachak, Akiak, and Tuluksak in the Bethel Census Area of the U.S., State of Alaska. Each village school is K-12. The district office is located in Akiachak, (ACK-ee-uh-chuck) on the west bank of the Kuskokwim River, on the Yukon- Kuskokwim Delta. It lies 18 miles northeast of Bethel. The district employs approximately 70 staff, which includes a principal, certified, and classified staff in each village and numerous district-wide staff. Employment of local residents is a critically important piece of the Yupiit education system.

Unique Environment

The terrain is Arctic Tundra interspersed with willow, alder and spruce trees. The tundra is covered with a wide variety of wildflowers in the spring. The delta is one of the of the state's primary breeding grounds for ducks, geese, and other birds.

The weather can be challenging but has helped to shape us as Yup'ik people. It varies from below zero in the winter to the mid-70's in the summer, when you will have sunlight most of the day. Although the winter nights can be long, all is not dark. Well-adapted staff may find enjoyment in taking walks or skiing in the moonlight, with beauty both unique and stark. Snow machines, four wheelers and occasionally a dog-team are common forms of winter transport. When the northern lights are out, an informal phone tree has been known to be established, where the staff is contacted during the night to come outside and witness this magnificent event not usually experienced by people living in more southern areas.

Life on the Kuskokwim River is a unique experience that binds our local culture to the land. The river provides subsistence resources such as salmon, sheefish, pike, trout, grayling, and waterfowl while also serving as a major transportation corridor during the summer and winter. The area also supports healthy populations of moose and fur-bearing mammals.

Our residents and the school system rely heavily on air transport in and out of Bethel via small aircraft. Bethel airport serves a regional transportation hub that connects to regularly schedules flights to Anchorage via jet and turboprop planes (Alaska Airlines and RAVN Airlines). Bethel also serves as a regional healthcare hub.

The School Board

The regional school board consists of seven members elected by popular vote by the people of the three villages; three from Akiachak and two each for Akiak and Tuluksak. It is a progressive Board committed to quality education in a culturally relevant and responsive manner.

Unique Blend of Cultures

You will find a unique blend of cultures at our schools. We are faced daily with the challenging, rewarding and fulfilling opportunities of preserving our Yup'ik culture while preparing our students for their future in the 21st century.

It is not at all unusual to hear lessons being taught to a first grader in Yup'ik, and then to watch that child go to the computer lab and function fluently in English on the Internet.

Yupit School District Location

The Yupit School District is located about 395 miles WSW of Anchorage, Alaska. By jet, it is just over 1 hour to Bethel regional airport from Anchorage and then a short flight 18 miles upriver to the district office in Akiachak. There is regularly scheduled flight service (Jet and turboprop) to Bethel and then scheduled and chartered flight service to each of the villages.

The District is located within the Yukon Delta National Wildlife Refuge, the second largest refuge in the United States covering 19.16 million acres of coastal plain created by the Yukon and Kuskokwim Rivers.

Each of the three communities comprising the Yupit School District is located along the banks for the Kuskokwim River approximately 65 to 80 miles upstream of the confluence with Kuskokwim Bay. The Kuskokwim River is the 9th largest river in the US. And runs for 702 miles to the NW side of the Alaska Range.
