

January 31, 2022

Dear Superintendent,

The Association of Alaska School Boards Board of Directors has declared February to be School Board Recognition Month. The goal is to build awareness and understanding in your community and schools of the crucial function an elected school board plays in a representative democracy. As citizen advocates, individual board members face a complex, and often demanding job; yet few people fully understand the scope and far-reaching implications of board members' responsibilities.

All Alaska citizens should recognize the important contributions of these men and women and focus attention on the vital role these public officials play in the education of our children.

Such deserved recognition can encourage veteran board members to continue to make the commitment board service requires, as well as encourage other citizens to get involved in the schools and make positive change. A full month allows local districts, PTAs, booster clubs, Chambers of Commerce, and individual campuses to organize activities convenient and appropriate for them.

Take this opportunity to help acknowledge thousands of public servants who make the time to share their vision and voice about the future of Alaskan children. Our best wishes for a productive month of building awareness and support in your community.

Sincerely,

Lon Garrison

Executive Director

Tips for School Board Appreciation Activities

The Association of Alaska School Boards Board of Directors has declared February to be School Board Recognition Month, a time to honor school board members and to express appreciation for their contributions.

Ideas in this packet will help school administrators, district staff, parents, community leaders and students say how much they appreciate their school board members during School Board Recognition Month, and other occasions.

School Administrators

- 🍏 Host a special luncheon and invite community leaders to attend. Introduce each board member, note special interests, highlight accomplishments and present him/her with a special award and/or memento.
 - Social Distancing Option: Invite school board members and community leaders to attend a lunch time zoom/online meeting. Send lunch to the board members.
- 🍏 Invite board members to attend a school assembly in their honor. Arrange for students to present skits, sing, perform dances, recite poetry, etc., to express their appreciation. Notify local news media.
- 🍏 Prepare a video presentation of school activities and accomplishments to share with the board at a board meeting or at an all-school assembly. Such a video is also a good year-round communications tool.
 - Social Distancing Option: Highlight and share this video on your district's website
- 🍏 Create a brochure complete with board member's pictures, profiles, and an invitation for comments. Distribute it to parents and staff, and make it available at public gathering places throughout your community.
- 🍏 Work with local media to set up interviews with board members. Suggest they interview board members about the role they play in the schools and community. This acknowledges the importance of school board members; it also helps spread good news about your schools.
 - Social Distancing Option: Most media outlets are probably already set up to do remote interviews, but you can also offer to host the zoom meeting or teleconference if necessary to facilitate these interviews.
- 🍏 Place a large "thank you to our board members" ad in the local papers. The ad could include signatures of staff members and students and community leaders, etc., and showcase student art.
- 🍏 Focus attention on board members during athletic events scheduled during February. For example, a board member could "toss the ball" to begin a home basketball game.
- 🍏 Ask staff members to express gratitude to board members for their consistent efforts on behalf of your schools.
- 🍏 Ask the city, borough, and tribal governing body to declare February School Board Recognition Month in your community. A sample declaration is included in this tool kit to provide suggested language for this declaration.
- 🍏 Include a "thank you to the board" ad in your district newsletter.

Staff & Students

- 🍏 Make a large "Thank You to Our School Board" banner and ask students, staff, and parents to sign their names below the message. Display the banner at a prominent location in your community such as a grocery store, library, bank, etc., throughout February.
- 🍏 Ask students from every grade level to write and decorate appreciation cards to board members, and mail them to their homes (a parent organization or local service club might be willing to help pay for the postage). Coordinate the mailings to ensure messages are received throughout February, or throughout the year.
- 🍏 Ask students and staff to create original works of art demonstrating appreciation to board members. Display this art during February in the boardroom. Perhaps local artists and/or teachers will help "dress up" the original works of art for display, i.e., matting, framing, mounting on construction paper, etc.
 - Social Distancing Option: Take pictures of the artwork to share during zoom meetings or featured on the district's website.
- 🍏 Ask students to write letters to board members expressing their gratitude for the work they do. This is a good way to demonstrate proper punctuation, spelling, grammar, good penmanship, and to teach students about the responsibilities of the school board.
- 🍏 Ask students to cut out paper 'candy hearts' with appreciation messages on them and plaster the board room with them.
- 🍏 Announce the school board members at sporting events and other school events.
- 🍏 Replant flowering plants grown by students in science or horticultural classes in containers decorated by students in art classes. Present them to the board members at a board meeting and use them to decorate the boardroom year-round.
 - Social Distancing Option: Present the plants at a socially distanced board meeting or special virtual assembly, and arrange to have them delivered to board members afterwards.
- 🍏 Since board members are busy people and often miss dinner in order to fulfill their school board responsibilities, give each board member a "dinner out" gift certificate for two at a local restaurant. Ask local business people to help pay for these special treats.
- 🍏 Make buttons, pins or bookmarks from student art and present them to the board members as a personal "Care Package."
- 🍏 At a board meeting, present a portfolio of students' work showing their improvement over the school year.
 - Social Distancing Option: Prepare a presentation which can be shared at a virtual meeting of the school board highlighting students' work.
- 🍏 Sponsor classroom luncheons for board members. Have students send personal invitations and prepare and serve the meal in their classroom.
 - Social Distancing Option: Arrange to have a brown bag lunch delivered to the school board member, and invite school board members to attend an online meeting with a class.
- 🍏 Make each board member a photo album depicting your district's academic, athletic and service projects. They can keep it as a reminder of all of the exciting things taking place in your school district.
- 🍏 Ask each school in your district to be responsible for doing something special for one of your board members. Students at one school tackled this assignment by making a board member "King for the Day," with appropriate crown and robe, and had a photo of the occasion printed in the local newspaper.
- 🍏 Hold mock school board meetings and elections in high school government and speech/debate classes.
 - Social Distancing Option: Hold mock meetings and debates online to highlight how school boards have evolved.

Help Us Celebrate School Board Appreciation Month!

The Association of Alaska School Boards Board of Directors has declared February to be School Board Recognition Month, a time to honor school board members and to express appreciation for their contributions.

Below are ideas to help parents and community groups and businesses say how much they appreciate their school board members. Included are ideas and activities school and community groups can use during School Board Recognition Month, or other occasions.

Parents

- 🍏 Invite board members to attend a meeting of your parent organization and include a reception in their honor. This provides an excellent opportunity for parents to meet the board members in person and get acquainted.
 - Social Distancing Option: Invite board members to attend virtual meetings of your organization, and include a portion of the meeting for a 'Get to Know Your School Board' session
- 🍏 Send board members thank-you notes citing examples of how the schools have helped their children.
- 🍏 Send or deliver flowers or "goodies" to each board member at their place of employment.
- 🍏 Help distribute School Board Recognition Month posters throughout the community.

Community Groups & Businesses

- 🍏 Place a "thank you school board members" or other notes of appreciation on reader boards throughout the community.
- 🍏 Invite board members to be honored guests at a meeting or luncheon during February.
 - Social Distancing Option: Invite board members to virtual meetings and luncheons held during February or throughout the year.
- 🍏 Invite board members to participate in school-related workshops or on school-related committees.
- 🍏 Donate a special book or video to a school library in recognition of the board or of individual board members.

Sample Proclamation

Ask your mayor, city council, borough, or Tribe to proclaim February as School Board Recognition Month in your community. Publicize this with a press release, and in your district's newsletter.

WHEREAS, the mission of public schools is to meet the diverse educational needs of all children and to empower them to become competent, productive contributors to a democratic society and an ever-changing world; and

WHEREAS, school board members are dedicated to the success of our public schools, the students who attend them, and work closely with educational professionals, parents, and other community members to promote excellence in student learning and academic achievement; and

WHEREAS, local school board members are committed to children and believe all children can be successful learners and the best education is tailored to the individual needs of the child; and

WHEREAS, local school board members contribute their time and talents to our communities, and work closely with parents, educational professionals, and other community members to create the educational vision we want for our students; and

WHEREAS, local school board members are responsible for ensuring the structure provides a solid foundation for our school system; and

WHEREAS, local school board members ensure the assessment of students, school staff, and educational programs and are accountable to the community; and

WHEREAS, local school board members are strong advocates for public education and are responsible for communicating the needs of the school district to the public and the public's expectations to the district.

I urge all citizens to join me in recognizing the dedication and hard work of local school board members, and in working with them to mold an education system to meet the needs of both today's and tomorrow's children.

NOW, THEREFORE, I _____ do hereby declare my appreciation to the members of the

Proclaims February as School Board Recognition Month

The Association of Alaska School Boards Board of Directors has declared February to be School Board Recognition Month, a time to honor school board members and to express appreciation for their contributions.

The _____ School District is joining with other districts throughout Alaska to recognize the important contributions board members make to their communities.

"Alaskans benefit every day from the dedicated energies and countless hours devoted by a group of more than 300 men and women across the state. These public servants are elected to serve by local constituents and receive no compensation for their tireless efforts. These men and women are the local school board members of Alaska," said _____ (superintendent's full name), _____ (district name).

"These people unselfishly contribute their time and talents toward the advancement of public education," (superintendent's last name) said. "They represent a continuing commitment to local citizen control and decision making in education.

"Even though we are making a special effort during February to show appreciation to our school board members, we recognize their contributions reflect a year-round effort on their part," _____ superintendent's last name) said. "They are dedicated individuals who are committed to the continuing success of our schools and students."

Sample Editorial #1

Talk to your local newspaper editor about using this as a basis for an editorial.

Submit under superintendent's byline as guest editorial.

Adapt to letter-to-the-editor format signed by Chamber of Commerce president or other prominent community leader.

Imagine a community with no local control over its schools. Picture paying an education bill without local men and women to make spending decisions for you and other citizens like you. Think about an education system where all policy is set at the state or national level. Imagine putting your children in the hands of someone you don't know.

School board members are our neighbors who make education their business, investing countless hours of their time, and often their own resources, to set direction for your children and your local public schools.

Local school board members establish policies to reflect your beliefs and set goals that protect your community's vision for the future.

They spend long hours, after their own work days, making decisions on issues that will eventually impact everything from local business to the quality of life in your community.

Most of their efforts go unrewarded. Often, the only response school board members get is criticism. But what would you do without them? Where would you go with your concerns? Your questions? Your complaints?

Who else is "in tune" with both the prospects and the problems of your community? With the successes and failures of your businesses? With the special needs of your employers? With the fears, hopes and dreams of your families?

When you elected your school board members, you picked people to act for you in your absence. You chose men and women you knew you could trust with the vitality of your community and the development of your children.

They play such an important role in the uniquely American school governance system that guarantees your local control of your schools.

Show your appreciation for them during School Board Recognition Month in February. Say thanks to these board members for guiding your public school system. Without them you would lose a vital link to your local schools.

Sample Editorial #2

In addition to its use as a guest editorial, this article can also form the basis for a column in your newsletter, a speech, or letter-to-the-editor.

School board members exemplify local citizen control and decision making in education. They volunteer hundreds of hours and an immeasurable amount of energy to assure that our schools are providing the best education possible for the children of our community. Here are some reasons we are taking this time to show them our appreciation during School Board Recognition Month.

School board members are citizens whose decisions affect our children-what they learn, who will teach them, and what kinds of facilities house their classrooms.

These are men and women elected to establish the policies to provide the framework for our public schools. They represent you, and they take this responsibility seriously by attending lengthy-and sometimes turbulent meetings, conferences, and institutes where they broaden their knowledge about education; during numerous conversations about the schools; and before the Alaska Legislature.

Our school board is one of fifty-three such boards across the state. These boards enable us to have local control of the public schools, meaning that decisions on school programming are made by local, elected representatives who understand the community's unique problems, values, cultures, and circumstances.

It's a tradition that began more than 200 years ago. With the advice and counsel of the educational professionals they hire, our school board has an impact on virtually every aspect of our schools. It's a huge responsibility and one which should not be taken lightly.

Too often we neglect to recognize the dedication and hard work of these men and women who represent us. The staff and students of our school district are asking all local citizens to take a moment to tell a school board member "thank you for caring about our children's education."

So hats off to the dedicated men and women who make it possible for local citizens to have a say about education in our communities. We salute the public servants of _____ School District, whose dedication and civic responsibility make local control of public schools in our community possible. We applaud them for their vision and voice to help shape a better tomorrow.

Sample Article

This sample article can be used in your district newsletter as an article in your local newspaper, a letter to the editor, or as the foundation for a speech. Localize the article by adding information about your school board members, details of how board members will be honored during February, and examples of ways your board has improved education for students in your district.

School board members are people who have an extraordinary dedication to our public schools. It's time we said thank you for their untiring efforts.

Too often we forget about the sacrifices board members routinely make.

Too often we forget about the important role board members play in ensuring local control over our public schools, control in the hands of people we know . . . people who are our neighbors.

Too often we forget in the tradition of a representative democracy, board members are our connection to influencing how public schools are governed.

Too often we are quick to criticize board members without really knowing all the details that went into any given decision.

Too often the efforts of board members go unrecognized and unrewarded.

We can begin to correct these oversights throughout February, designated by the Association of Alaska School Boards Board of Directors as School Board Recognition Month. This is a time to show our appreciation and begin to better understand how school board members work together to provide leadership for our schools.

The school board works closely with parents, education professionals and community members to create the education vision we want for students. It then formulates goals, defines results, and sets the course for an adequate and equitable education program for all students.

The school board is accountable to the public. It is responsible for assuring the public the money allocated to public schools has a good return on investment, overseeing regular assessment of the district's students, staff, and programs.

The school board is also a strong advocate for public schools, responsible for communicating the needs of the school district to the public, and vice-versa.

In February, join with others from throughout our district and state to salute the men and women who provide grassroots governance of public schools. Make a special effort to tell each school board member that his or her hard work has been noticed and is very much appreciated.
