

AASB's 32nd Annual
June Nelson Memorial Scholarship Competition

Win a $1,500 Scholarship!

The Association of Alaska School Boards is proud to announce its 32nd Annual Scholarship Award Competition. The June Nelson Memorial Scholarship is named in the honor of the late June Nelson, a longtime school board member from Kotzebue. June contributed much to the cause of education and will be remembered for her outstanding service on behalf of Alaska's children. This scholarship is made possible and funded by individual contributions of school board members and administrators from across the state!

This 2022-2023 school year, AASB will award up to fifteen $1,500 scholarships to apply toward post-secondary education! Up to two of these may be awarded to returning college sophomores. Up to two scholarships may specifically be given to students planning to attend trade/vocational schools.

Essay Prompt

"How important is your social and emotional well-being, and what aspects of your social and emotional well-being have helped you be successful?"

Six Trait Writing Rubric

Readers scoring the application will use the Six-Trait writing rubric. This rubric identifies and evaluates six traits or characteristics of effective writing on a six-point scale. The rubric is designed to provide a consistent scoring method based on recognized traits of effective writing.

Descriptions of the Traits

- Idea/Content: This trait addresses the writer's theme along with the supporting details that develop and enrich the theme. Ideas should be clear, complete, and well-developed.
- Organization: This trait addresses the structure of a piece of writing, including the thread of central meaning and the patterns that hold the piece together. A well-thought-out order of ideas should be apparent with a consciously planned opening and closing.
- Voice: The type of voice will vary according to the purpose and type of piece, but it should be appropriately formal or casual, distant or intimate, depending on the audience and purpose.
- Word Choice: This trait reflects the writer's use of specific words and phrases to convey the intended message in an interesting, precise, and natural way appropriate to the audience and purpose.

Six Trait Writing Rubric (Continued)

- Sentence Fluency: This trait addresses the rhythm and flow of language. The sentence structure should be strong and varied.
- Conventions: This trait addresses the mechanics of writing, spelling, capitalization, punctuation, and paragraph breaks. It also includes proper format.

Application Scoring

In addition to the points earned for the essay, there are 6 additional areas for which scholarship reviewers can award the application points.

Unique Circumstances: Committee members may take into consideration things like the remoteness of the students' home/school district, a student's family situation, learning disabilities, work, illness, or other hardships. There is no hard and fast rule. It is also entirely possible a student does not require unique circumstances. Maximum points: 15

Student Leadership: Students should list their involvement in any type of leadership experience they have participated in. This can be related to student council, clubs, sports, civic organizations. Maximum Points: 12.5

Student Activities: Students can list and describe any type of activity they have participated in, school-sponsored or otherwise. This could include school extracurricular activities (sports, drama-debate, theater, clubs, etc.) or any other activity for youth that is done outside of the school day. Maximum Points: 12.5

Cultural Activities: Students can list and describe any type of activity they have participated in that would be considered "cultural activity." This could include ethnic cultural activities, the arts, community events, or practices that may be an expression of culture. Maximum Points: 12.5

Community Service: Students may list any type of service they have been involved in whether they have done so as an individual or with others as a group. Many students list volunteering or doing community work through organizations such as the National Honors Society, 4-H, church, or with their local tribe or government. Maximum Points: 12.5

Letters of Recommendation: Students must submit two letters of recommendation, one from a community member, and one from a teacher. Points are awarded based on the inclusion of the letters, NOT on the content of the letters.
