Hi, my name is Devon Cleveland. I think staying in a positive mindset helps me a lot, and I keep a positive attitude around others. When there are hard moments, like doing heavy woodwork like cutting and packing wood to keep my home warm, or chop wood for neighbors, my brother would help me. It's good to spend time with him. Sometimes we must take a load of trash to dumps if there's a Honda and a time to clean a lot or any other thing to do. When there's work to do, people always just ask and I'll help right away to get it done, like if it's cleaning, taking out the trash, the dishes, heavy woodwork or even a fund raiser for a trip or so when help is needed, I'll stop by and do my best.

When someone's having a bad day, I'll leave them alone and nevertheless I don't know what happen and it wouldn't be my business or even worst I'll get cot up in a moment that I can't help in a way or any sort of way. Day after day I'll teach my second youngest brother things like how to tie his shoes or a trash bag and watch us cut and pack wood so he would learn how to chop and pack. Sometimes there would be a lot of dishes to do so me and my third oldest brother would do the dishes sometimes because he would do laundry and when we or I are done I would sweep, mop and pick up from the floor and fix the beds and clean and wipe the counter.
